LEXICONS   free access

For many years the Lexicographical Section has promoted research on Medieval Latin Lexicons through the publication of critical editions and commentaries. In this area of scholarship, SISMEL has come to recognize the importance and possibilities inherent in the creation of the Lessici mediolatini, LeMeL database, which allows consultation and research on a corpus of texts using the resources offered by new technologies. The lexicons now available in Mirabile, in PDF format, permitting basic word searching, represent the first step in a larger project.

DIGITAL LIBRARY   free access

The Mirabile Digital Library (MDL) is a new tool which enhance research at the text level on Latin Medieval Authors. It offers in open access the Latin Medieval Texts published by SISMEL · Edizioni del Galluzzo in a new form that allows users to accomplish tasks beyond the simple browsing: the text and related information contained in the edition are remodeled into a system of interconnected and browsable data. The texts are encoded in xml-tei standard. All metadata link directly to Mirabile.

MIRABILE DIGITAL LIBRARY (MDL)

The Mirabile Digital Library (MDL) is a new tool which enhance research at the text level on Latin Medieval Authors. It offers in open access the Latin Medieval Texts published by SISMEL · Edizioni del Galluzzo in a new form that allows users to accomplish tasks beyond the simple browsing: the text and related information contained in the edition are remodeled into a system of interconnected and browsable data. The texts are encoded in xml-tei standard. All metadata link directly to Mirabile repertories (Bibliography, Authors, Works, Manuscripts) and it is also possible to run filtered full-text searches. The project comprises currently about 190 titles and will be updated on a regular basis.

The MDL, born in cooperation with the repository CORPUS CORPORUM of the University of Zurich, also displays the text-search results deriving from this repository.

The MDL was made possible by a fellowship instituted by the Zeno Karl Schindler Foundation in partnership with the Società Internazionale per lo Studio del Medioevo Latino (SISMEL).

Breviarium de dictamine

Albericus karissimis in Christo fratribus Gundfrido et Guidoni benivolentie magistralis amorem.

2 Quanto ego cupidinis igne, fratres amantissimi, exarserim, quanto exoptaverim desiderio ut vestri cupido desiderii suppleretur, ipsum testem invoco, quem mentis abdita, quem conscientie archana non fallunt, qui et de ipsis intimi animi motibus generis arbiter creditur futurus humani.

3 Sed quia, iuxta prophete elogium, non est in manu hominis via eius, nec ab homine, sed a Deo gressus hominis diriguntur, exigentibus presertim facinoribus meis maxima ex parte spes maximaque ex parte defraudavit opinio; nec enim factum est quod aviditas humana concupivit, sed quod meritis humanis competere Deus arbiter iudicavit.

4 Unum autem hoc numquam mihi Deum indulgere rogaverim: numquam me ministerii sacerdotalis officiohoc solvi vinculo, hoc delui piaculo iudicaverim, si non modo supplere desiderium vestrum, verum etiam suppletum cumulo superaugere non ex corde flagravi et non ex intimis concupivi.

5 Que autem quamque indeclinabilia mihi impedimenta obstiterint, non iam Deum, verum vos ipsos conscios, vos ipsos fideles inclamaverim testes; ceterum ad tantillum spatii, quod de largitate divine relictum est indulgentie, in breviarii editione edenda, prout de munificentia celesti speramus, prosaico dictamini commodissimum animo disposui atterendum, confidens nihilominus de Deo, et pollicens nos in proximo reduces et vita comite pleno vos optati diu desiderii gaudio donaturos.

6 Breviarium autem nostrum veritate auctore vere breviarium erit, quia magis notationibus quibusdam conservande memorie quam discipline constabit preceptionibus capiunde; nec nova vos et incognita hactenus in hac brevitate opperimini ediscituros, sed vel ea, que iam viva voce nobis referentibus
